

Jamye Hickman, designer of the E.B.D. Carry-all is a pet parent and Ph.D. Candidate in engineering psychology at GA Tech.

“Zoë-Joe is my inspiration. We go everywhere together and I needed a bag for her stuff. Because of my education, I knew it had to functional and easy to use. I took those skills and designed a travel bag for the pet parent on-the-go. Think of it as a doggy diaper bag ergonomically designed with functionality and style. My mission with PupCentric is to continue designing functional pet necessities that do not compromise your personal style, but compliment it. Designed for pets... engineered for people...”
